

John Bolton Wood AM Baritone

The Bear Victorian Opera

"...John Bolton Wood's perfectly nuanced bear of a man, Smimov.

Peter Burch – The Australian 16 March 2010

"...one of Australia's most intelligent actor- singers, John Bolton Wood"

Sybil Nolan - Herald Sun 15 March 2010

.. "Smimov (John Bolton Wood in fine form).."

John Slavin – The Age 13 March 2010

Rigoletto Opera Queensland

"...but it is Australian opera veteran John Bolton Wood who turns in the most deeply affecting performance as the title character. Prepared to do anything to protect his daughter, he resonates with the desperation and heartbreak every father knows to some extent."

Jason Whittaker - Australian Stage Online 2009

"John Bolton Wood in the title role is simply magnificent. His interpretation... is wonderful... his voice seems to get better and better and this particular production allows him to find subtleties and nuances within the character"

Nigel Munro-Wallis October 2009

Batavia Opera Australia

"Bolton Wood's Predikant was a triumph – beautifully sung, acted with absolute conviction: a thoroughly credible man of the cloth whose abhorrence of the precipitous descent of the society in which he is trapped into barbaric chaos and his own descent into madness were flawlessly conveyed in demeanour and utterance alike."

David Gyger Opera Opera June 2001

The Barber of Seville Wellington City Opera

"Australian John Bolton Wood stole the show. His subtlety of nuance, his comic acting and movement on stage could hardly be bettered."

Rosemary Collier Sunday Star Times 19 October 1996

A celebrated performer and the winner of five Green Room Awards, John Bolton Wood, who was awarded an AM for his services to Opera in 2009, was born in Sydney, and received his music education at the NSW Conservatorium of Music and the London Opera Centre. He made his UK debut at the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden as Bosun in Benjamin Britten's Billy Budd.

John returned to Australia in 1973 to sing the role of Roderick Usher in Larry Sitzky's Fall of the House of Usher, the first full-scale production to be staged in the Opera Theatre, Sydney Opera House. Since then he has appeared with all the State Opera companies and with Opera Australia in a wide variety of roles.

John received great acclaim from the public and colleagues alike for his role as Old Deuteronomy in the Australian production and Asian tour of Cats, which he sang for an astounding 1498 performances. He is also noted for his performances in the operetta repertoire, particularly in roles such as Agamemnon in La Belle Helene, Jupiter in Orpheus in the Underworld and his justly renowned interpretation of Frank in Die Fledermaus.
